

ENROLLMENT GROWS TO 45 STUDENTS THIS FALL

This August, we celebrated the third anniversary of Released Time Bible Education becoming available to Campbell County High School students at the Christian Learning Center! CLC is thrilled to be growing as we continue this mission of teaching God's Word to students during their school day for academic credit. For the Fall 2021 semester, we are offering two class periods of our Creation to Christ course with a total of 45 students enrolled. This is the largest semester enrollment we have ever had at CLC! (See graph for comparison.)

Of current CLC students who responded to a survey, 17% reported that they have limited to no prior experience studying the Bible. 53% responded they have some experience, while 30% said they have a lot of experience. Contrary to popular assumption in the Bible Belt, biblical illiteracy is common among both unchurched and churching students alike.

As we began the semester in Genesis, some students have discovered basic skills such as how to search for a chapter and verse in the Bible. Growth is taking place in leaps and bounds for these students who came with limited to no Bible experience. The ones who have come in with prior knowledge are establishing a stronger context for the stories they have grown up with and seeking application of this knowledge. This semester's students are particularly hungry to dig deeper and ask big questions of God's Word, and our staff is excited to teach from an academic as well as spiritual standpoint.

ZACH LLOYD SERVES AS INTERIM EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

On August 28th, CLC's board of directors and staff met for an annual meeting. All in attendance enjoyed a time of fellowship and business in preparation for the new school year. Included here is an updated list of our staff, board, and junior board members.

Former executive director Ashley Claiborne recently chose to step down from her role at CLC in order to take another position of employment. Our board of directors and staff extend our deep gratitude to Ashley for her prayerful leadership and hardworking efforts at CLC. She has been an integral part of establishing this organization's impact on Campbell County. We look forward to her continued leadership as she serves on our board of directors.

Zach Lloyd, a local pastor at East LaFollette Baptist Church and a former CLC board member, has agreed to serve as our interim executive director. Zach has already spent time volunteering in the classroom and has a heart for offering students a gospel-centered learning environment. Regarding his new role, Zach says, "I am very thankful for the opportunity and look forward to continuing what we have been doing. I also look forward to praying and seeking God's will in finding the right person to be our next full-time director." Our personnel committee will be posting the open position within the upcoming weeks.
